For a Turkish Film

Try this one:

Beklenen Şarkı

<https://youtu.be/XHlfSjsorw>

from 1971 – so there are some pretty dated attitudes etc.

Boy, Selim, from a wealthy family falls for lovely and talented Gül who comes from a family of little means. His father rejects Gül and his fiance Meral (chosen by his father) makes sure the wedding happens but Selim cannot forget Gül. Gül slowly makes a name for herself in the music business without realizing that Selim is working behind the scenes to help her career and she continues to reject Selim even going so far as pretending to get married to someone else (her uncle!). It's up to Selim and Gül's mothers to resolve the situation by putting two pieces of a song together.

You'll notice all the sound is dubbed in.
